Policeman Waish, of the West Thirtieth street station, was called in, and he took charge of the house. The dead man's effects were sent to the station-house. They consisted of a trunk, value, thirty-one pieces of gold of French denomination, two bank-notes of the same country and $1.85 in the same country and $1.85 in the same country.

Among other effects there were a diamond ring, lady's small open-faced silver watch, a fully loaded thirty-eight-calibre revolver and a memoranda-book. These were sent to the Coroner's office this morning.

It is said that Minville is not the real name of the dead man, but that he is a very wealthy man, who has been driven from Cuba on account of some peculiar state of affairs there.

He has two sons in France, it is said, and is thought to be a widower.

His appearance and dress generally indicated that he was, or had been, a man of the higher walk of life.

Dr. 3iff states that he was hastily summoned at about 9.30 o'clock last night to attend the girl. He found her in a profound state of coma. He was told she had taken the poison only fitteen minutes before his arrival. Half a dozen women, said the doctor, were in the room, and they explained that she had taken a dose of carbolic acid by mistake.

Dr. Siff administered antidotes, but they had no effect on the patient, who was then practically dead.

The doctor asked that an ambulance be summoned, but the family, he says, emphatically refused. By means of the stomach-pump he diagnosed the case as one of poisoning from carbolic acid.

It is Dr. Siff's opinion that the girl had been poisoned some thus before his arrival, as she had no convalsions when he reached the house, and which, he says, she must have had before his arrival, or the dose must have been such a large one as to almost immediately produce a profound state of coma.

The doctor further says that he asked for the bottle from which sate took the poison, but it was not produced, and when the girl's father asked for a death certificate he refused it and notined the police.

A short time ago Minville sold out his business in Havana and planned to go home. He reached here with a party of friends yesterday, but it was impossible to ascertain this morning who these friends were.

Minville retired about 5 o'clock last night, and at 1 o'clock this morning a lodger came downstairs and informed Dr. Elliott that there was a strong odor of illuminating gus in the hall on the second floor.

An investigation was instituted, and the origin of the trouble was traced to the rear room occupied by Minville.

Dr. Elliott succeeded in entering the apartment by getting on the fire-escape and through the window. As has been stated, he found the man lying on the bed. He had been dead probably an hour.
